

Administrative Law Book

“ADMINISTRATIVE POWER AND THE LAW”

BY FIONA MCKENZIE

about the book:

- If you deal with administrative power and legislation, you need to know the fundamentals of your legal framework. You may not have time to read a long academic commentary. You want something that gives you the answers – and this book does it.
- Administrative Power and the Law is a succinct guide to administrative law. It covers a broad range of topics such as:
 - what is administrative law?
 - record keeping and administrative law
 - why legislation is fundamental
 - when are decisions reviewable?
 - what is the source of power and authority for administrative decisions?
 - grounds of judicial review: natural justice, errors of law, relevant and irrelevant considerations, policy issues

what people are saying:

- “An appealingly fresh and effective approach to the learning of administrative law, and hence, by implication, to teaching it”- Terence Daintith – in UK journal “Public Law”
- “An excellent, practical book...it offers a good explanation of fundamental administrative law issues” – Stephen Argument
- “The author’s experience in this area of the law shows... the book is a worthy contender for a place on the shelves of any practitioner engaged in the often intricate web of administrative law. Highly recommended as the starting point for any administrative law inquiry.” – John McDonald about the author:

- Fiona McKenzie, the author, is a barrister at the Victorian bar. She has practised in administrative law at Blake Dawson and the Australian Government Solicitor. Fiona has lectured at the University of Melbourne, has a Master of Laws from the Australian National University, and has over 10 years training experience in the area of administrative law.

to order:

- return completed form and payment to AUSTRALIAN LAW IN PRACTICE c/- Fiona McKenzie, c/- Foley’s List, 205 William St, Melbourne, VIC, 3000, fax (03) 9225 7293
- inquiries to fionamckenzie@vicbar.com.au or ph (03) 9225 6939 / 0434 601 835

ORDER FORM/TAX INVOICE

your details*:

name:		position:
organisation:		fax:
address:
phone:		mobile:
email:
payment enclosed:	$55 incl GST plus postage/handling in Australia of $5 for 1-3 books (large orders please inquire)	no. of books _____ x $55=	$
		postage =	$
		total =	$
method:	cheque	cash	direct deposit on request

AUSTRALIAN

LAW IN PRACTICE

ABN 70449836755

www.adminlaw.com.au

WS0308

*NOTE: your details may be used to tell you about future book or training news - please advise if you do want this.